

FatMac IT Solutions

www.fatmac.co.uk

info@fatmac.co.uk

020 8659 5931

Good URLs

Here are a few good URLs that specialise in Apple products and chat etc – they should start you off on finding your favourite Apple sites!

1. <http://www.apple.com/uk/> - Apple's UK homepage.
2. <http://www.apple.com/uk/downloads/macosx/> - Apple's OS X download page.
3. <http://www.apple.com/downloads/macosx/dashboard/> - Apple's site for downloading new Dashboard widgets – this is a really good site for widgets!
4. <http://www.apple.com/uk/macosx/downloads/automator/> - Apple's site for downloading Automator workflows and actions – a good place to start to get your Automator library started.
5. <http://www.apple.com/uk/support/> - Apple's support homepage.
6. <http://www.discussions.apple.com/> - Apple's 'discussions' forum. Discussions is a place for all Apple users to ask for help from Apple technicians and professional users.
7. <http://www.versiontracker.com/> - A really good, well-known site for downloading trial software and updates.
8. <http://www.download.com/> - Same as version tracker, but in my opinion not as good.
9. <http://www.macupdate.com/> - Same as version tracker as well, but only does software and reviews for OS X.
10. <http://www.macosxhints.com/> - A website that gives OS X users hints and tips about hidden and useful features of the OS. There is also quite a good forum here.